Granny's Fixit: An Ozarks Guide to Healin' the Body and Soul

7:30 p.m., Recital Hall | Tickets, $10/$7

We all know, or we should, that women's stories have often been excluded from history. Women, especially older women, are treated as if they are invisible. Well...Dawn Larsen, who is entering into her crone years, thinks we have something to say...she does anyway and this show celebrates the crone, the granny woman, and brings her out of the holler and into the light! Granny women were healers/midwives/seers found in rural Appalachia and the Ozarks. Combining several historic granny women into one character, to tell a story of women in a solo show that features original and historic, music, spoken word, comedy, and images to transport audiences to the place she calls home.
