

COTTEY Chronicle

May 10, 2024

Carol Clyde

Carol Clyde, Associate Professor of Organizational Leadership, was invited to serve as the keynote speaker for the 2024 Southwest District Key Club convention in Tempe, AZ. Her presentation discussed “Adventures in Leadership,” and how attendees might challenge themselves and each other in the adventure of leadership that they are and will experience.

More than 350 High School students and advisors from Arizona, New Mexico, Texas and California attended the event.

Carol Clyde

Cottey Students Sarah Chapman, Haili Bingham, Ciandra Troth, Sara Golden, and Emma Bruce competed in the 2024 Leadership Challenge Event™ (LCE™), an annual event hosted by the Washburn University Leadership Institute. It is a unique inter-scholastic and inter-collegiate leadership competition which provides high school and undergraduate college students an opportunity to participate in an organized competition that simulates real-life experiences.

The LCE™ challenges students to address a variety of problems and situations where the outcome of the simulation is dependent on the leadership decisions made throughout the course of the competition. Watch the 2024 LCE Highlight video at <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=zAvLnFd2iWg>

Carol Clyde

Dr. Carol Clyde attended the 24th Annual International Leadership Association (ILA) Global Conference. Chaired by the Right Honourable Kim Campbell (the first and only female Prime Minister of Canada), the event convened more than 1,200 participants from 76 nations.

Dr. Clyde co-facilitated a roundtable on “Neurodivergence in Academia — Why Leaders Must Pay Attention!” with colleague Cristina Wildermuth of Barry University; and lead a workshop on “Collaborative Action: Increasing Capacity for Transformation with Feminist Leadership Skills” with Yolanda Caldwell of The College of Saint Rose & Titus Enterprises.