The Serenbetz Institute and College Writing faculty held the Wow at Work panel discussion on Thursday, February 12 at 11 a.m. in the Missouri Recital Hall. The panelists included Becky Mock, an Audit Director at Media Marketing Compliance, Jeanne Kemp, the VP of Enterprise Finance Transformation at Brunswick Corporation, and Teryn Greer, the Executive Director for Discovery Behavioral Health. Dr. Jon Green served as moderator.

The panelists shared the stories of their careers, along with the importance of communication in each of their fields. One Cottey student said they learned "to not be afraid to be confident in a professional setting and that you can create room for yourself at the tables you want to be at by making valuable connections and communicating clearly."
